In its cherished beachfront location, the new Outrigger Reef on the Beach has been transformed to embrace the tradition of Polynesian voyaging. From the dramatic canoe longhouse at the entrance of the hotel to the navigational stars stitched into the new décor, guests are immersed in the sense of Hawaiian adventure and discovery.

Outrigger Reef on the Beach

Outrigger Reef has been re-created, with a top-to-bottom $110 million transformation. A new vision of hospitality and a deep connection to the sea has guided this journey across rich traditions, modern elegance, and enthusiasm for sharing the gifts of our islands.

The new entry is reminiscent of a traditional canoe longhouse, and the home of our rare koa-wood canoe, Hoaloha, built over a century ago. A collection of Polynesian canoe art by renowned historian Herb Kawainui Kane overlooks our reception where you're welcome to relax in a new sitting area with a library of literary works and cultural treasures.

Choose from 639 elegantly appointed guestrooms and suites. Each is brightened by photographic close-ups of colorful aquatic life -- although nothing can distract from the breath-taking view of Waikiki and the famous beach.

Take a surfing lesson or catamaran ride and participate in cultural activities, including hula and ukulele lessons. Fall in love all over again during our sunrise Hawaiian vow renewal ceremony offered on the beach fronting the hotel.

Enjoy live Hawaiian entertainment nightly at the all-new Kani Ka Pila Grille located poolside or choose from two open-air oceanfront restaurants. Or stroll to the adjacent Waikiki Beach Walk®, Oahu's hottest promenade, offering over 40 shops and restaurants.
